Similarly, the main window will also be circled in red if associated with it. the camera is recording. Motion detection (Ctrl + M). Eyeline can respond to the movement of people. This is a particularly useful feature if your hotel has a front desk where security cameras need to be installed. If people begin to approach the counter, the camera in this window will also react, which means that when a person moves in the image area, recording will occur on the media. In this case, the motion detection function works on all program windows, except for the main one. Face detection (Ctrl + L). Eyeline can recognize people's faces .
