Description of Related Art In many systems known in the art, image data representing a sequence of images is compared with image data representing a selected image from said sequence of images, the authenticity of the selected image being determined in case the selected image matches a certain criterion, such as a pattern, an image or a visual feature of the selected image. For instance, EP-A-0 560 725 describes a method in which a hash value representing the selected image is generated from said selected image. Said hash value is then compared with a hash value representing the image data representing the sequence of images. In case the hash values match, the selected image is considered authentic. Another method is known from U.S. Pat. No. 6,186,133, in which a pairwise comparison between sequences of images is performed on the basis of the information content of the individual images. In this case, the sequence teachers and administrators: if you don't think this is a problem, you need to have your heads examined. It is beyond my comprehension why anyone would voluntarily sign up to teach in a school where students are rewarded for their disrespect. But it is happening every day. "It is no exaggeration to say that the Kansas Department of Education is asking teachers to take on the impossible," according to Brian A. Ratledge of the Institute for Policy Studies. "They are asking teachers to keep students on track to high-school graduation. They are asking teachers to do so with the ever-changing challenges of funding, the demands of standardized testing, the ever-changing nature of the curriculum,
