NFS.Undercover.Crack.and.PATCHED Keygen-RELOADED

So i finished reinstalling XP because i wanted to backup all my stuff but now all i get is a black desktop when starting up is there a way to fix that? I tried dual booting windows but i cant install NFS-undercover with a disc that is compatible with the old XP motherboards, its something that is forced on every single ship i get from them. So is it possible for me to use the same disc with my new motherboard? If i do that it means my actual nfs.exe is defective and it cant be patched? If that is the case i dont know how to fix it, I've tried making a new patch before but it doesnt work. I uploaded a patch of my own but i thought that could be something wrong. But one thing i know for sure is i want to patch it and play it on my new motherboard I have a problem with my NFS:Undercover setup I have my own patched version of it, I think that comes with it, the problem I have is when I play any online servers I either the game will freeze and I can't get past the first loading screen or the game crashes. Some online servers have 60 - 100 people on them and some online servers have 500. So if the online server loads anywhere from around 100 to say 200 people, then the game crashes. If it loads anywhere from around 100 to say 200 people, then the game freezes. I can still join but I can't start the game. It crashes, freezes or the game does nothing and I just sit there twiddling my thumbs while it sits on \"Loading\". Yo! I'm in need of help i think its the worst glitch ive seen. NFS.Undercover.exe is the file that you need to decompile. Decompiling is easy once you know how and where to look. Just download the FPD Setup tool to program your Home Premium (32 bit) or Ultimate (64 bit) version of Windows Vista, open up the FPD Setup tool, and download my updated NFS. Undercover.exe. Thats it. Do not decompile it into a new.exe or.rar, or any other type of archive file. When it opens up, you will notice that there is an auto-run of decompiled NFS.Undercover.exe.
